What our employees say: -

"Working at Lawray is great, from day one you are being pushed to reach your potential, getting more involved in projects than you thought you would and learning as you go along. There is also a great team in the office and we all work well together...everyone is always more than happy to help"

"Lawray has given me the opportunity to experience a wide variety of projects in various sectors, something that I haven't experienced at other practices in which I have worked. The friendly and supportive atmosphere is a great help to me gaining experience and confidence as I progress through my career"

"I started working at Lawray after leaving college and have found it a great place to learn the skills and knowledge needed to develop into the role I am in today. The working environment and support shown from colleagues make it an enjoyable place to work, whilst at the same time the projects I am involved in offer the opportunity for me to develop on both a personal and professional level"
